

Davide Campari – Milano S.p.A.

Remuneration report pursuant to article 123-ter of the TUF

Section I

a) The remuneration policy for directors, general managers and other managers with strategic responsibilities is determined by the Company's Board of Directors on the proposal of the Remuneration and Appointments Committee, after consultation with the Board of Statutory Auditors.

b) The Remuneration and Appointments Committee, a Board of Directors committee, comprises three members, all of whom are non-executive members and two of whom are independent. Pursuant to art. 22 of the Articles of Association, the Remuneration and Appointments Committee is responsible for formulating proposals for the appointment and remuneration of directors who have been given specific functions and powers and, where appropriate, of those who hold key positions in the Company's senior management. The Remuneration and Appointments Committee meets regularly to conduct its business, and may involve other relevant corporate functions, as required.

c) In accordance with the company's policy of reducing the use of external consultants and associated expenses to a minimum, no external consultants were involved in preparing the remuneration policy.

d) The remuneration policy for executive directors aims to determine the appropriate remuneration for senior managers and to foster their loyalty, using three different mechanisms: (i) fixed salary; (ii) annual variable performance-based pay; and (iii) the allocation of stock options. The principles of the remuneration policy and the instruments used have not changed in the last few years and also apply to the rest of the Group's management. For the Chairman of the Company's Board only, given the particular features of the role, which mainly involves corporate representation duties, remuneration consists only of a fixed salary component and stock options.

e) Specifically, the following applies:

The fixed salary component provides appropriate and guaranteed basic remuneration for the performance of executive directors' duties. The duties undertaken by executive directors cannot be remunerated only through variable instruments, as this could lead to a zero payout during adverse market conditions not due to the directors themselves. This fixed salary component may consist of: (i) remuneration from employment, or (ii) remuneration for the position held pursuant to art. 2389 of the Italian Civil Code, or (iii) a combination of the two elements.

The annual variable performance-based pay serves as a short-term incentive for achieving ambitious annual results for the Company and the Group. The targets for obtaining annual variable performance-based pay are defined each year by the Board of Directors, on the proposal of the Remuneration and Appointments Committee, based on profitability and cash-generation indices that can easily be verified by consulting the next year's financial statements.

If the stated targets are achieved in full, the variable pay component is equal to around 100% of the fixed salary.

Stock options serve to encourage loyalty and provide an incentive for management to achieve medium-term growth results to ensure that not too much focus is placed on the short term. Executive directors participate in stock option plans approved by the shareholders' meeting for a large number of beneficiaries, under the same conditions.

Stock options, by their very nature, only acquire a value if the price of the Company's shares increase, and are therefore directly correlated with the creation of shareholder value. Given their nature, it is difficult to formulate reliable assessments of the percentage of total pay comprised by stock options, compared with the fixed salary and annual variable performance-based components. Experience in previous years, however, shows that the relevant amounts may be quite significant when the Campari stock performs well.

f) Executive directors who regularly perform duties for the Company enjoy the same benefits (car, mobile phone, supplementary pension, etc.) that are provided to the top band of the Company's senior managers.

g) The targets for determining the annual variable compensation are defined each year in advance, based on ambitious profitability and cash-generation targets for the whole Group. These targets are determined in such a way that they cannot be achieved through short-term managerial decisions which would compromise the strength of the trademarks managed in the long term, such as cutting advertising investment, or the company's ability to generate cash, as would happen in the case of non-physiological growth in operating working capital.

As explained earlier, if the stated objectives are achieved in full, the variable compensation is equal to around 100% of the fixed salary. If the targets are not achieved, the variable compensation is reduced disproportionately, and becomes zero if results are equal to or less than 90% of the target. Similarly, if the targets are exceeded, the compensation is increased disproportionately up to a maximum amount for results equal to or higher than 120% of the target.

Since the variable pay component for executive directors is calculated on the basis of a profitability and consolidated cash generation target, and stock options are by their nature linked to the stock's performance (and hence, indirectly, to the Company's results), both the short-term and the medium- to long-term variable components are closely correlated with business performance and therefore the Company's interests. Overall, the significant percentage of the annual variable pay component and stock options compared with the fixed salary component means that the related cost to the Company is largely variable, which provides a natural hedging if the Company's performance is below expectations.

(h) In relation to the various types of executive director remuneration, the following applies:

The fixed salary is paid monthly.

The annual variable pay component accrues when the consolidated financial statements in question are approved. The elements for calculating the amount due are drawn from these statements using arithmetic formulae.

The right to exercise the stock options accrues seven years after they have been assigned. This period can be anticipated at the end of either the fifth year or the sixth year following the assignment with a resulting one-off application of a reduction of 20% or 10% respectively in the total number of options assigned.

The stock options may be exercised in the two-year period after the right has accrued, notwithstanding the Company's right to introduce blocking periods, should the circumstances require, when the options may not be exercised.

There are no ex post adjustment mechanisms for each category of remuneration, except in the event of significant acquisitions when the Board of Directors has the right to review the target relating to the annual variable component if this has become immaterial due to the acquisition.

i) The beneficiaries of stock options have no specific obligations to continue to hold the acquired shares in their portfolios.

j) In the event that a director's employment with the Company is terminated prematurely, no specific compensation shall be paid other than any statutory entitlement, and there are no other agreements with directors that make provision for the termination of office.

k) All directors and auditors of Group companies, including Davide Campari-Milano S.p.A., are beneficiaries of a D&O (Directors' and Officers' Liability) insurance policy at market conditions for this type of cover.

l) Independent directors are entitled to the same remuneration as other directors: there is therefore no specific remuneration policy for independent directors. A specific fee is paid to directors for their participation in committees. The fee is commensurate with the activities deemed to be required, given the type of committee. There are no roles markedly different from that of the Chairman of the Board and of the managing directors, nor any specific remuneration policies relating to other roles.

m) Although the remuneration policy was not determined with reference to other companies, it is generally in line with the policies of other companies of comparable size and financial results.
